Information

The fountain pen inspired by Arcimboldo is a true work of art.

Joseph Arcimboldo.

Made with high quality materials and

Unrivaled craftsmanship, this fountain pen pays homage to the famous 16th-century Italian painter

The entire barrel of the pen draws inspiration from the Arcimboldo artwork

"Vertumnus" (Emperor Rudolf II), famous for his portraits of human figures composed of fruit, vegetables and flowers. The barrel of the pen is decorated with intricate compositions of these natural elements, giving the pen a striking look unique and colorful look. The pen is equipped with a high-quality 18kt gold nib (Bock) made in Germany which allows for easy and smooth writing. The nib is available in different sizes to suit each user's writing preferences

The pen is finished with great attention to detail, with the cap engraved and enameled entirely by hand like the barrel it is represent the "Reversible Fruit Basket" is a portrait that can be seen in two different ways: on one side, it represents a person's face composed of fruit, while on the other side it shows a variety of fruit arranged to form a basket. This duality and creativity in the use of natural objects are distinctive features of Arcimboldo's works.

and featuring a lustrous gold or silver colored clip, depending on the finish chosen. The pen is presented in an elegant box, ready to be gifted. The new collection inspired by Arcimboldo is a true masterpiece that combines craftsmanship and inspiration by one of the greatest artists of the Italian Renaissance. A one-of-a-kind pen that is sure to impress anyone who sees or uses it.

Enameling is an art that requires considerable artistry. Enamellers must be able to create detailed, eye-catching designs, often Ultimately, gold enamellers are masters of the art of transforming precious metals into works of art through the application of colored enamels. Their skill requires a combination of artistic talent, technical knowledge and manual dexterity to create unique and beautiful pieces.

Creating shades of color requires in-depth knowledge of the chemical properties of glazes and the reactions that take place during the firing process. Experienced goldsmith enamellers may be able to achieve more complex and realistic nuances due to their experience in the use of materials and techniques.

It's not about putting a single color that would only take a few hours, but more intricate ones that would take weeks of work.

Ultimately, the creation of nuances of colors through goldsmith enameling is a process that requires time, skill and dedication on the part of the craftsmen involved, just think that to paint this pen it takes almost 1 and a half months to get the right nuances and requires 1 hour per day approximately given by the artistic effort
